

Misti Spiller Bio

Raised in the Texas Hill Country, Misti (Menzies) Spiller spent her formative years enveloped in the Texas Extension programs, her father a county agent and her mother a home demonstration agent. Her involvement in extracurricular agricultural competitions from a young age led to a highly successful collegiate judging career, both in meats and livestock. This is a passion that she continues to be associated with today, intent on helping shape the next generation of agriculturalists. In her time in the industry she has been involved in building multiple large scale registered cattle operations, keeping records and managing genetic data across all of the major breed associations. She works alongside her husband, Decky Spiller, who manages the Silver Spur Ranches Registered Cattle Division. She has a deep devotion to her family and the industry that has supported it for generations.
